Foreword

In the year 1870 the first Vatican Council of the Catholic Church commenced under the leadership of Pope Pius IX. The ecumenical council, the first to be held in the Vatican, set up the dogmas and interpretations of Church law which the Church follows even today.

Again, in 1962, 92 years later, the Pope has found cause for another such meeting of the Church's fathers. The second Vatican Council of the Catholic Church was officially opened by Pope John XXIII on October 11, 1962, in Vatican City, Rome. The meetings of this ecumenical council are presided over by the Pope and his legate and deals with matters of faith, morals, worship and Church discipline. Its decrees, if approved by the Pontiff, are infallible and binding on all Catholics. Those attending this council include Cardinals, even those who are not Bishops; Patriarchs, Primates, Archbishops, and residential Bishops, even those who are not yet consecrated; Abbots, and independent prelates; heads of certain monastic congregations, and heads of other religious orders and titular Bishops, if invited.

Representing New Orleans at the council is His Excellency, the Most Reverend Archbishop John P. Cody, Apostolic Administrator of New Orleans. Archbishop Cody served in the Vatican Curia for seven years and was a member of one of the council's ten permanent commissions. At the Vatican Council he is now serving as the head of a special committee for education.

As this yearbook goes to press, news of the death of Pope John XXIII has reached the Christian world and has saddened the hearts of everyone. It is with sincere heartfelt sentiments occasioned by the death of His Holiness, that the editors of this yearbook offer prayers for the repose of his soul. Prayers also are offered that the peace and harmony among all men, which was the fervent prayer of Pope John XXIII be continued and crowned with success by the work of this ecumenical council.

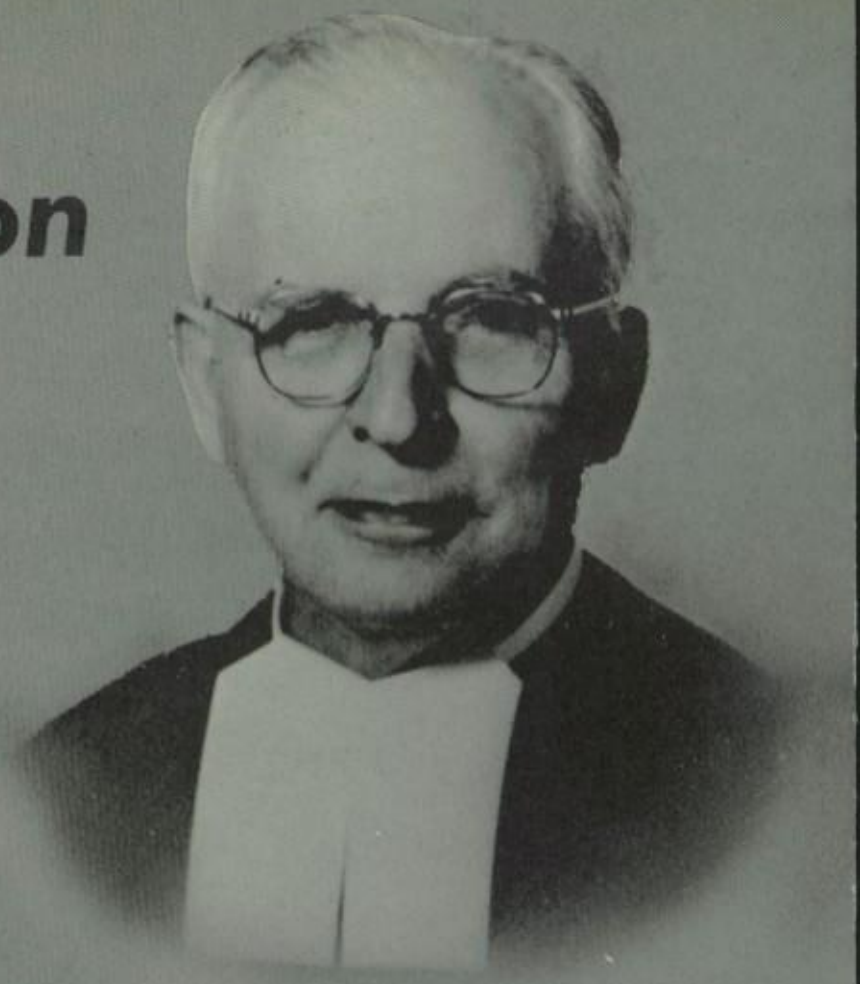
BROTHER CHARLES



BROTHER ARSENIUS

BROTHER JOSEPH

MR. W. BERCEGEAY

MR. J. ALTOBELLO

Brother Arsenius reviews the semester averages of college-going alumni.

All Americans are familiar with the deeply religious phrase of Nathan Hale: I regret that I have but one life to give for my country. Teachers, however, have no such regrets; for they constantly serve the good of their country and its particular society by forming young men for a lifetime of service and love. Young men freshly graduated enter a harsh society equipped with Catholic principles of action. If they are not overcome, they overcome; the good thus effected redounds to the glory of their teachers. There is no doubt that the teaching profession does the greatest service to mankind.

The staff of the Maroon Legend would be delighted to concentrate gratitude to five men: Brother A. Arsenius, Brother N. Charles, Brother B. Joseph, Mr. Wellman Bercegeay, and Mr. John Altobello, during this their tenth year at De La Salle. For the last decade these men have worked assiduously at the many teaching and co-curricular assignments they have variously held. There is no doubt that the high-stepping reputation of this school is in part due to these five teachers. In the name of the students of De La Salle we wish to thank the three Brothers and two laymen for their ten years of service by dedicating this issue of the Maroon Legend to them.

And what is yours?

Brother Charles helps a student through a mechanical drawing difficulty.

Mr. Bercegeay is again before the eye of WDLS.

Mr. Altobello prepares another Cavalier baseball schedule.

Seniors get first glimpse at their rings.

Seniors Receive Their Rings

Juniors leave church after ceremony.

The Seniors had been waiting for Sept. 21, the day when they would really feel like Seniors. Perhaps in some schools the receiving of the rings has only a material significance; but these were De La Salle rings which were given out in church.

But let us not forget the Juniors; for, on this day, they, too, would receive a representation of the spirit which they have for their class and their school. This emblem was in the shape of a gold-filled Cavalier and chain guard with the year '64 at its end. On this day they really became upperclassmen.

Fall Festival

The Circus Maze specialized in raffling stuffed animals.

On the Saturday before the big day, De La Salle's school yard was full of the sounds of hammers and saws busily at the work of building booths for its annual Fall Festival. This work continued throughout the day and on Sunday morning the finishing touches were added.

At noon on Sunday the Festival began and the schoolyard became gay and festive. Only a few hours later the festival was in full swing and everyone was enjoying themselves at the concessions and many booths which spotted the school grounds. The cafeteria became a gay eating place for the hungry crowd. Raffles took place continuously throughout the day and prizes of wine, groceries, and stuffed animals became the property of happy winners. The Circus Maze, which raffled stuffed animals, was the most popular booth on the grounds.

The evening was highlighted by the drawing of the ticket to win the 1962 Rambler Classic, which was the entrance prize. As a treat for the teenagers there were two dance sessions held during the night in the De La Salle assembly hall. Because everyone was having a good time the evening passed quickly, and it was midnight before anyone knew it.

Through the efforts of the Mothers' and Boosters' Clubs the Fall Festival was a grand success.

The bake shop drums up some business while the young at heart try their hand at darts.

One of the most beautifully decorated booths, My Lady's Pantry, sold candy and sweets.

Homecoming Activities

The month of November was highlighted by the annual Homecoming Weekend. This meant much activity, fun, and excitement for all Cavaliers and provided them with many memories.

The activity began Friday night with the Homecoming Dance at the Tulane Room of the Jung Hotel. Music was supplied by Bobby Mitchell and his band. At the dance the Homecoming Court was presented.

Saturday, the excitement heightened with the traditional bonfire. Here, Cavaliers were entertained by the band and the cheerleaders. Again the Court was presented.

The next point of interest occurred Sunday with the motorcade from DLS to City Park. Many decorated cars participated in this parade. The game was one of the most exciting games of the school year. Long will be remembered the driving touchdown run of C. Lannes and the winning touchdown for DLS which was called back. When the final whistle blew, both sides knew that this game would go down in history as one of the best.

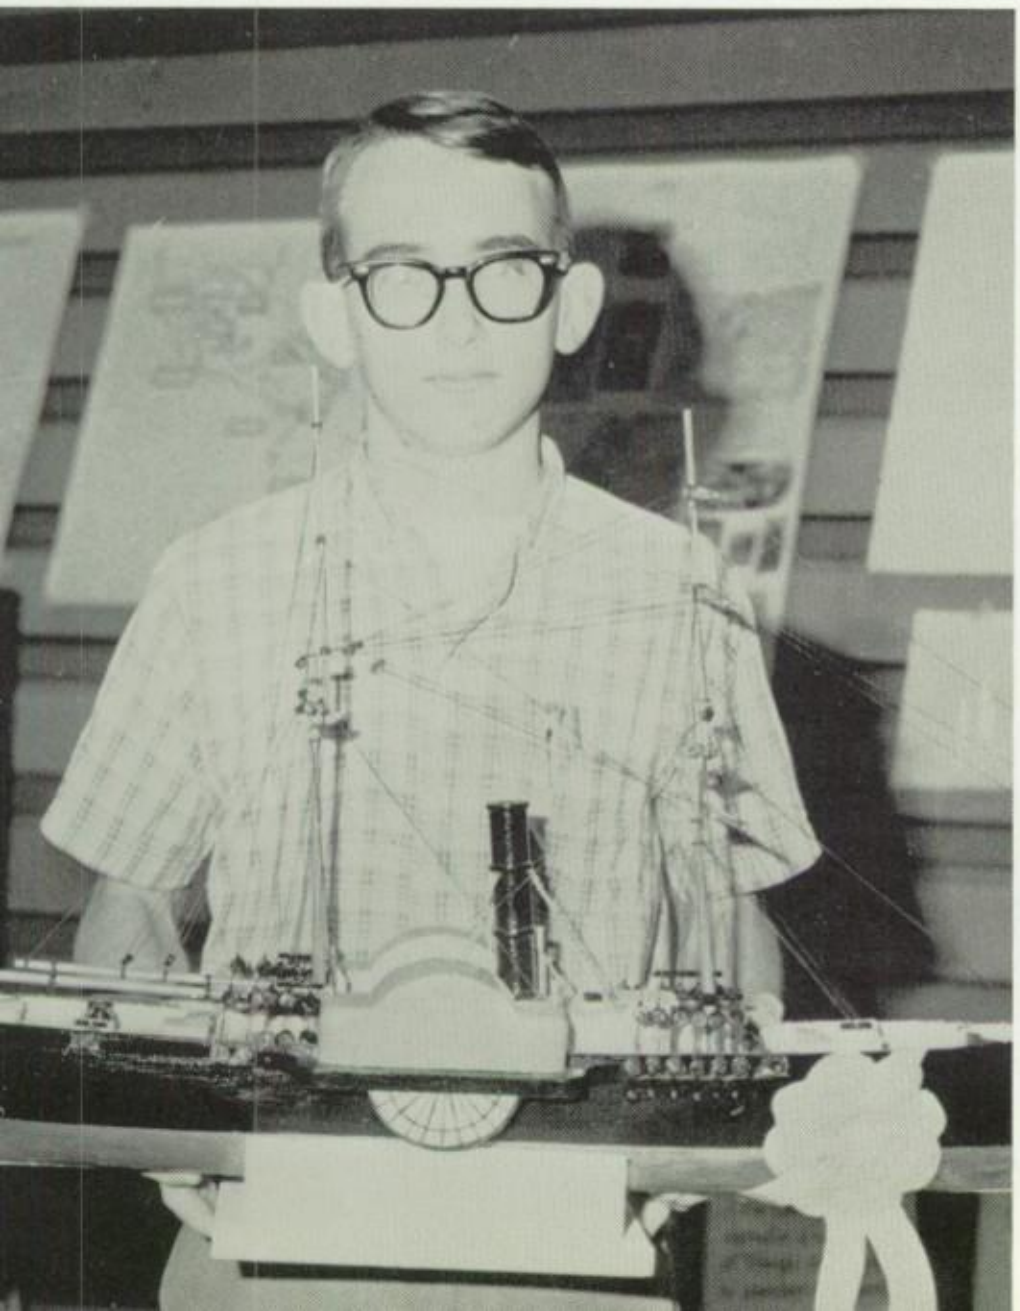
Fair

Second in History J. Burwell



The De La Salle Science Fair under the direction of Mr. Felix Gaudin held the 1963 Science Fair on March 4, 5, and 6, in the Gym student center.

After months of diligent preparation on various projects by many students on all levels, the fair finally came. Both the great quantity and quality of the projects entered served as a resounding endorsement by the student body of the scientific fields. Displays included working electronic equipment, scale relief maps, statistical charts, inert and operating models of atoms, the solar system, birds, animals, and various living organs. Also included were a few small dissected animals and a number of model stills. Variety certainly left little to be desired.

Junior-Senior Prom

For upperclassmen the high points of De La Salle's social activities are the annual proms.

The Grand Ballroom of the Roosevelt Hotel took on an air of Polynesia as the DLS Mothers' Club, led by Mrs. A. J. Krail, decorated it with fish nets, fish, and other trademarks of Oceania. As couples arrived that night for the Junior-Senior Prom, they were given Polynesian leis and Beachcomber hats to complete the atmosphere of the South Seas.

Ernie K-Doe, Smiley Lewis, and the Hi Fi's provided music for the four hour prom which has been called one of the best Junior-Senior Proms in years. The Junior-Senior Prom Committee, the Mothers' Club Committee, and Prom moderator Brother Frederick deserve a vote of thanks for a job well done.

Senior Prom

The excitement of the Junior-Senior Prom had barely died down when the Senior Prom was held in the Grand Salon of the Royal Orleans Hotel.

The Roaring Twenties was the theme of the Senior Prom, featuring canes, hats, beads, and other articles typical of that era. Art and Aaron Neville and their band furnished the music and thereby contributed immensely toward making the Senior Prom the great success it was.

Mrs. Frank Prattini, the Mothers' Club Senior Prom Committee, Student Council President Larry Schoolmeyer, and the student Senior Prom Committee planned and carried out this most successful Senior Prom. Needless to say all in attendance enjoyed themselves exceedingly.

The way is cleared for Mentel in the Jesuit game.

From the very beginning of the season the Cavalier Football squad proved themselves to be contenders for the Catholic League Crown, which they had won last year. The team faced a grueling schedule of eleven hard games, but they came through with flying colors and won eight of these eleven to finish the season with a very creditable 8-3 record.

Although they were somewhat hampered by injuries at key positions, the team played with a skill and precision unmatched in the league. On the offensive, the team worked successfully from a basic "T" formation and, on defense the Cavaliers were noted for the strength of their line, their aggressiveness and teamwork in tackling.

The team's successful and highly admirable season was due largely to the efforts of Head Coach Buck Seeber and his assistants as they furnished the experience and leadership necessary to insure success and a good season.

Varsity Basketball

This year's basketball team, handicapped from the start with lack of height and experience, developed into a fine poised winning team. Looking over the very favorable 17-8 record one can easily see the development throughout the season. Finishing third to St. Aloysius and Jesuit, De La Salle is in a fine position next year with their still young but experienced team.

As usual there were many hot rivalry battles with the teams this year, and the hard and brilliant play of the boys under the direction of Coach Altobello brought this year's team a long way.

Varsity Baseball

Head Coach Johnny Altobello

The defending state, city, and Catholic champions, the De La Salle Cavaliers, got off to a slow start in league play by dropping their first three games. They regained some lost poise and assurance in themselves when they started winning and began travelling on the comeback road. Their concerted effort was not soon enough, however, because the Holy Cross Tigers playing on a hot streak, swept through the league to win the Catholic Crown. De La Salle finished fast, though, with the help of ace hurler Jerry Schoen, who fashioned a 5-0 record and who was supported by a balanced offensive attack.

The team, though it finished second in the Catholic loop with a 7-5 record, was hurt, needless to say, by the partial loss, due to sickness, of last year's star pitcher, Elton Remondet.

The Cavaliers played well throughout the season and could best be described as a young, but sound team. As the season progressed, the team improved, due to the splendid efforts of Coach John Altobello and Assistant Jack Smith.

Track

Although the 1963 track team did not equal the record of last year's second place team, this year's squad was certainly nothing to be ashamed of. There were many outstanding individual performances. A comparatively young team, filled with freshmen and sophomores, they favored well in their age group. De La Salle made a poor showing in the district track meet in comparison with past performances.

This year saw some record breaking efforts by Dolph Miller, who set a new record in the shot put; in addition, the mile relay record was smashed by a quartet of fine athletes.

Tennis Team

Under the guidance of Bro. Lawrence, the new moderator of the tennis team, with slow and deliberate determination progressed into a team worthy of note.

This year's team, though not a true first rate team is in the vital period of developing a team worthy of any other. Bro. Lawrence emphasized development and interest in Freshmen because as he says, "It is better to start them young." Next year's team promises to be a strong and consistent team with many juniors coming up and new freshman prospects looking very good.

R. Sarradet gives pointers to P. Lobello, B. Gros, T. Riddick, and R. Gonzalez.

Swimming

As the days get hotter and hotter more and more boys go to the water, but to a certain group of students swimming means a great deal more than splashing around and keeping cool. To them swimming means a great deal of practice, training, and competition.

Finn Gotaes, the captain, is one of the finest swimmers in the state, and after seeing him, a man from Lafayette said, "He is the best high school swimmer I've ever seen."

To Finn and the rest of the team, congratulations for a fine year of work.

Benildus Club

One of the largest religious organizations at De La Salle, the Benildus Club has as its chief objective the inspiration and financial aid of religious vocations of the school. This is made possible through several activities which characterize the Benilde.

Two of their annual functions include a vocational exhibit and a day of recollection which normally takes place at the De La Salle Juniorate in Lafayette, La.

Officers of Benildus Club: K. Graffagnini and T. Dubret.

Altar Boys

The Altar Boys, a strictly spiritual organization at DLS, performs such tasks as assisting the Brothers at Mass, taking part in any processions which may arise, or giving a helping hand to the Sacristan of the Brothers' Chapel.

The Altar Boys receive very little recognition throughout the year though they do a great deal of work.

W. Delaune serves in the Brothers' chapel.

Confraternity of Christian Doctrine

Devoted to spreading the teaching of Christ, the CCD is a popular religious club at DLS. Members give their spare time learning to spread the faith and when those goals are reached the real purpose of their training begins. This is the teaching of the basic facts of the Catholic religion to many youngsters. Very similar to the vocation of the Apostles who were charged by Christ to teach and baptize, the members of the CCD have devoted themselves to the very same task. The weekly classes are conducted by members at Little Flower.

It is sometimes difficult rising early for a Sunday session but the CCD member will readily admit his enjoyment with his work, and the stories he relates are happy and numerable.

CSMC

As another of the many religious organizations in De La Salle, the Catholic Students Mission Crusade affords the student the opportunities to actively further the work of missionaries. A specific method of doing this is by means of correspondence with numerous missions.

Father Gilbert Roxburg, O.P., spoke for CSMC on missionary work of church.

Maroon Legend

"All members of the Maroon Legend staff to 109 immediately after school"—a familiar call to the fifteen or so members of the staff who probably met more frequently than any other organization.

With the conversion of the old P.E. room into a darkroom, Cavalier, and Maroon Legend staff office there was never a lack of constant activity, whether before school, after or on the weekend.

There were several ingredients which went to produce this edition of the Maroon Legend. First take several photographers, add film and develop: result—the wonderful pictures in this book. Bro. Justin (only distinguished by black robe) sacrificed his time to help us develop into a united working organization. Sheets and sheets of what looked like endless layout work, finally ended. There were other items like yells for quiet and order and of course good violent arguments; but the most important was the PEOPLE who worked to put this book together.

Cavalier

This year is of special importance to the energetic staff of the Cavalier. Using the new magazine format started the previous year by Bro. Xavier, the staff has managed to perfect the idea and to produce more issues of higher quality than ever before. This year, the faculty moderator merely served as an advisor, rather than an active working member as in the past. All the effort and backbone of the staff generated from patient and diligent work of the editors-in-chief.

New ideas and departments have made this truly a school magazine of which all can be proud.

Debate

The graduation of D.L.S. state champion debate quartet posed quite a challenge to last year's second string debaters. Under the guidance of Coach Mike Cumberland, they have been working hard in an attempt to carry on the tradition of past D.L.S. debaters.

The mere experience makes the project highly valuable, for the benefits of debate are manifold. The debater gains a great deal of mental maturity and practice in logical and orderly thinking, as well as self confidence and speaking ability.

Mu Alpha Theta

Membership in this National Honorary Mathematics Society represents one of the highest scholastic achievements of DLS. The DLS chapter hosted the annual state convention this year in late January.

Discussions on various mathematical subjects are led by the moderator, Brother Virgil and sometimes by the students. This year the DLS chapter inducted 12 more full members and several associate members into the club.

Past President C. Van Hook wishes new President B. deLeon good luck.

Jets Club

Dedicated to helping students who wish to enter the field of engineering, this club meets every other week. Talks by Bro. Frederick, the moderator, and by professors from Tulane highlight each meeting. In these discussions there is an attempt to introduce the students to the true nature of engineering and at the same time give them an insight into its various areas of specialization. Questions are answered about any problems the students may have about this profession or of their projects.

Mothers' Club

The Mothers' Club had an active year with its day at the track, its card socials, and the teas which all go to the benefit of the students and the enjoyment of the ladies. Some of the mothers were invaluable with their help and attendance at many DLS affairs. They worked at the Fall Festival, card socials, and at numerous other activities.

The officers for the coming year are: Mrs. M. Miranda, Pres., Mrs. E. Herbez, V. Pres., Mrs. C. Calvo, Treas., Mrs. J. Pittman, Recording Sec., and Mrs. Weidenbacker, Corresponding Sec.

Photography Club

Under the guidance of moderator Brother Gerard and head photographer Leonard Nederveld, the Photography Club has played a vital part in the success of De La Salle's two publications, the Cavalier and Maroon Legend.

The members of the club spend from five to eight hours a week on their photographic work. They are in continuous attendance at De La Salle activities taking pictures that appear in the yearbook and newspaper. This would seem to keep their hands full but the camera bugs have various other duties to perform. The pictures that appear in the Times-Picayune concerning De La Salle are the work of the publicity-minded Cavalier photographers. All in all the photography club at De La Salle is a very important and busy part of the school's extracurricular life.

Cavalier Band

Installed in a functional new Bandroom on the first floor of the gym, the Cavalier Band of 1962-63 took part in many successful activities this past year.

As all students know, the band and drill team practiced daily during football season in order to be in top form for every game. The band also marched in several Mardi Gras parades, the New Orleans Fiesta Parade, put on three concerts, participated in the talent show and went on a band tour to Franklin, New Iberia, and Lafayette.

The total membership of the band including the color guard is 74. The band is run on a military type system of rewards, complete with rank and standing.

The band is self financed with the aid of a very active Band committee headed by Mr. J. Spadafora during this season.
